Doka ID

Access to product
validity – instantly,
at any time

For parts requiring recurring mandatory inspections, safety-related information should be easily accessible - always and everywhere. Evidence of inspections is required through mandatory reports. This and other important information should be easily and quickly accessible.

Doka ID provides you with a simple and efficient solution:

Serial number-related product identification and easy access to safety-related information: By scanning the QR-Code on a type plate or entering the serial number directly on id.doka.com, all necessary information for the selected part will be instantly available, such as:

- Status of the last inspection
- Access to inspection report
- Further documents & downloads (e.g. operating instructions)
